

Cooney Lees Morgan Backs Tauranga Talent Push

Posted on: April 1, 2026

This new campaign highlights what many of us already know. Tauranga offers something rare in the legal profession – the opportunity to work on complex, high-value matters while enjoying an exceptional coastal lifestyle.

Our firm is one of three legal employers featured in the campaign, with Associate Jasmine Daroch appearing in the campaign videos to share her experience of relocating from Auckland to Tauranga. Like many professionals who make the move, Jasmine quickly discovered that working in a regional centre doesn't mean stepping away from challenging legal work. At Cooney Lees Morgan, our lawyers regularly advise on complex matters that shape our region and have national and international reach.

Tauranga's rapidly growing economy, diverse industries and entrepreneurial culture mean the legal work here is varied, interesting and increasingly future-focused. At the same time, our region offers the lifestyle advantages that are difficult to find in larger cities – shorter commutes, easy access to beaches and outdoor spaces, and a strong sense of community.

Supporting Work Life Tauranga reflects our firm's commitment to attracting talented lawyers who want both professional challenge and personal balance.

For those considering their next move, Tauranga offers a compelling place to build a rewarding legal career. Explore the opportunities that await at worklifetauranga.com today.
